

The proven leader in construction scheduling and communications

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE**

Montalbano Homes selects AirToolz Software for Arizona roll-out of AirWavz construction scheduling and communications solution

March 20, 2006 – Tempe, Arizona - AirToolz Software, provider of the AirWavz construction scheduling and communications solution is pleased to announce that Montalbano Homes of Arizona has selected AirWavz as their solution of choice for construction scheduling. Headquartered in Oak Brook, Illinois, Montalbano Homes has been building homes throughout the Chicago area for almost 30 years. In 2000, Montalbano Homes expanded and opened Montalbano Homes of Arizona. The Arizona division is now delivering over 400 top-quality homes annually with plans to grow over 100%, delivering over 1000 homes annually in the Arizona Market. Montalbano Homes is proud to be only the second home builder in the United States to earn ISO 9001:2000 certification for its Quality Management System.

"AirWavz is set up the way I would do it if I built my own custom scheduling system," said Brent Smith, Vice President of Construction at Montalbano Homes, "AirWavz gives us a robust and scalable platform that can be easily integrated into our back office system. We expect AirWavz to save our superintendents 2-3 hours of administrative task time daily, giving our construction team more time in the field focused on quality homebuilding."

"AirWavz gives us improved accountability, quality and build schedule consistency." said Tony Montalbano, Founder, CEO and President of Montalbano Homes.

AirToolz Software provides builders with visibility into all aspects of the build process such as schedule changes, slippage and trade performance. Our clients realize significant ROI through reduced operating expenses, build cycle timesavings and detailed performance reporting. AirWavz increases accountability between builders and trades, lowers costs and increases profits. AirWavz allows superintendents to spend more time walking homes and less time in the trailer

"AirToolz Software ensures customer success with best of breed handheld and web-based software that streamlines and improves all phases of the building process," said Bela Lestar, CEO and co-founder of AirToolz Software, "The AirWavz solution schedules over 20% of new homes built in Arizona annually. Over 1,200 builders and trades use our solution nationally. We are pleased to add Montalbano to our valued customer base."

About Montalbano Homes

For over a quarter of a century Montalbano Homes has been satisfying the wants and desires of a wide variety of homebuyers. Throughout the years, Montalbano has specialized in acquiring the most desirable developments and turning them into success stories. Approximately ten years ago, it expanded to include semi-custom and production homes, offering the quality and affordability that has become its' trademark. It has proved a win-win situation for Montalbano and the homebuyers it serves. Montalbano Homes is an ISO 9001:2000 certified homebuilder that embraces state-of-the-art processes and procedures designed with the homebuyer in mind. The Montalbano team understands that each step of the home building process is critical. Montalbano is committed to a customer-friendly sales and home orientation process during construction, a defined quality assurance delivery process, an outlined post-closing service program as well as a customer loyalty program proving to be just the right combination for satisfying customers. Montalbano is currently building homes in ten communities throughout the Chicago market and in eight different communities in the Phoenix market.

The proven leader in construction scheduling and communications

About AirToolz Software

AirToolz Software has been providing the residential building market with proven construction scheduling and communication solutions for over six years. AirToolz provides builders and their trade partners with solutions that improve the consistency of the building process, increase accountability between the participants, lower costs and increase profits. AirToolz is committed to ensuring builders' success and value with best of breed and proven easy to use handheld and web-based software solutions. AirToolz is revolutionizing homebuilding with wireless communication tools that streamline all phases of the building process.

Founded in 2000, AirToolz is headquartered in Arizona, one of the fastest growing real estate markets in the US. For more details, visit www.AirToolz.com, call 480-607-0019 or email the company at info@airtoolz.com.